Knox Confers With Landon This Afternoon

Plans For Remainder Of Campaign Discussed At Topeka, Kan.

DASH TO WEST COAST ARRANGED

Believe Roosevelt's Visit To Kansas Will Cost Presidential Votes

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

TOPEKA, Kas., Oct. 17.—Gov. Alfred M. Landon staged another surprise move today by arranging an afternoon conference with Col. Frank Knox, his running-mate, after startling political leaders by announcing a cross country dash to California to speak in Los Angeles October 20.

Knox, who filled a speaking date in Tulsa, Okla., last night, will arrive here early this afternoon.

To Discuss Plans

The two Republican nominees will discuss plans for closing the campaign. Landon already has revealed he will spend the last week delivering a series of major addresses in the East, with a final speech in St. Louis the Saturday before election.

A similar tour, probably in the mid-west and possibly including some western points, will be arranged for Knox.

A flood of 150 telegrams meanwhile poured in on Landon from Republican leaders in California, inviting him to visit virtually every city and town in the state. Scores of other telegrams came from leaders in states along the route to California, urging the governor to stop.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Slippery Rock State Teachers College football squad was in the city shortly before noon. The team members spent some time here, enroute to New Wilmington, where Westminster is being played this afternoon.

Here's another record! Mrs. A. P. Stewart writes Pa. News from Wampum that she believes "Mr. Alec Stewart, of Wampum, is the champion tobacco raiser" in this district. He has leaves of tobacco, she reports, that are 30 inches long and 16 inches wide. Then jokingly, she adds that "if anyone else has any larger let them put it in their pipe and smoke it."

Suggestion was made to Pa. News that it would be a good idea to eliminate October 16 from the local football calendar. New Castle, Union, Shenango and George Washington, all were defeated yesterday.

Dear Pa. News:
Friday, B. K. Thacker, of George Washington, High school turned over to me a carrier pigeon that was found exhausted on the school grounds. The bird carried two bands, one of metal with the date, August 28, 1936 and the other band was of rubber with a code message on it. This bird was placed in the Zoo at Gaston Park, anyone missing this bird from their loft can call at the park. It's time to get that feeding station placed for the winter bird visitors have arrived. Nuthatches, Brown Creepers, Chickadees, Junco and Larks, will play you a call if you are prepared.

Start Cash Relief In Lawrence County

Cash relief in Lawrence County starts today and instead of food orders, checks will be mailed to all persons receiving relief. The checks will be mailed each week from the regional disbursing office in Pittsburgh according to James W. Moorehead, executive director of the SERB here.

In connection with the issuance of cash relief, Director Moorehead had the following to say today:

"With the inception of cash relief it seems desirable to call the attention of relief recipients, store-keepers and others to the necessity for observing certain precautions in handling the checks which will soon be issued in place of the various types of relief orders now in use.

"This is being done primarily with the idea in mind that a little care used in handling the checks may avoid considerable trouble and expense, and possibly actual hardships to relief families.

"To the relief recipient, the following are the most important items to be remembered:

"1. Don't let any one else cash your check. It must be endorsed by the individual to whom it is issued—not that individual's wife (or husband), or some other member of the household. The signature on the back of the check must be in ink, and must be exactly as the name is written on the face of the check.

"2. Be careful with your check. It is impossible to replace a lost or mislaid check without considerable delay. This may mean hardship for your family, so be careful with it. Arrange to be at home when your check is delivered, and cash it at once."

Food Donation Days For Jameson Hospital

Following a custom of years standing, Food Donations days will be held for the Jameson Memorial Hospital, on October 29-30-31. It was announced today, Citizens of New Castle and Lawrence County will be asked to contribute canned fruits and vegetables and such staples as potatoes, onions, turnips, and the like.

In previous years the Donation Days have been successful and there seems no reason to believe this year will not equal or surpass the other years. In a county of 100,000 there are certainly enough citizens interested in the hospital sufficiently to provide a lot of canned and preserved foodstuffs for the hospital patients.

Jellies and jams, soups and preserved fruits, tomato juice, canned beans and corn, these and a dozen other kinds of canned goods are most acceptable at the hospital.

Out of all the foodstuffs canned this fall surely everybody can spare a few jars of their products. The account (Continued on Page Two)

Police Accuse House-Boy In Effort To Cause Death Of Heirs

TWO HOUSE GUESTS IN SERIOUS CONDITION

White Plains, N. Y., Police Are Investigating—Chang Soo Lee Held

(International News Service) WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Oct. 17.—Wholesale murder of the widow Ida Churchill and all the possible heirs to her large fortune was the motive behind the coldly planned poisoning of two house guests of the 73-year-old White Plains matron, police said today.

The murders were planned even before the mysterious death of her husband, L. W. Churchill, noted Westchester attorney, in St. Petersburg, Fla., last winter.

Chang Soo Lee Held

This was disclosed as authorities again questioned the Columbia University educated house-boy, Chang Soo Lee, now in the county jail charged with the attempted murders of Mr. and Mrs. Churchill, both of whom lie paralyzed in White Plains hospital where little hope is held for their lives. Reeves formerly lived in Indianapolis.

Churchill died in great agony and immediately after police stated the Korean servant who held some strange, hypnotic influence over the Churchill family, convinced the widow that her husband's body should be cremated. Soon after his death, Mrs. Churchill received $50,000 in insurance, thus, police claim, paying the way for Chang's future attempts at murder. The wealthy widow, they assert, was to be the (Continued on Page Two)

President Near Conclusion Of Campaign Trip

Enters New York State After 5,000 Mile Tour Of Mid-West

MAKES SIXTY-ODD SPEECHES IN TOUR

Appeals To All Sections And Classes In Trip Just Ending

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ENROUTE WITH PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT, Oct. 17.—President Roosevelt entered his home state of New York today, completing the most strenuous part of his campaign for re-election.

Behind him lay 5,000 miles of travel in the past ten days, through a dozen states wherein he made sixty-odd speeches—every one of which defended the New Deal record, assailed the opposition, and reflected his own personal confidence in the outcome on November third.

Ahead of him lay two more weeks of campaigning. Next week will find him in doubtful New England for speeches in Massachusetts and Connecticut. After this a trip to Pennsylvania is planned, possibly a sortie into Indiana, and then the wind-up around the Metropolitan area of New York City.

Strenuous Pace

The president set his own pace on the long western trip that ended today and it was a strenuous one. Similarly, he hammered on the anvil of his own choosing, and the theme song of it was that the New Deal has bettered the lot of the average individual and, consequently, is entitled to an extension of its lease on the federal government.

From the Rockies to the Great Lakes, across the prairies, and through the factory towns of industrial states, Mr. Roosevelt dwelt constantly upon improved economic (Continued on Page Two)

Co-Ed May Lose Sight Of Eye As Result Of Blast In Laboratory

(International News Service) ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 17.—With one student dead, a co-ed facing the possible loss of an eye and a chemistry instructor injured, University of Michigan authorities today were investigating two separate laboratory explosions which occurred within five hours of each other.

George Drasin, 23, graduate engineering student of Grand Rapids, was killed when a 50-gallon drum on which he was working with an acetylene torch exploded.

Miss Frieda Kaufman, 17, of Chicago, suffered a cut eye and lacerations about five hours before when a test tube exploded.

Oliver Brown, chemistry instructor who was working with Miss Kaufman, suffered lacerations of the face.

Symphony Concert Women "Talk Walk"

(International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 17.—The action of 200 women in walking out on the Philadelphia orchestra in the middle of a new symphony, created by William Walton, a young English composer, today was the chief topic of discussion in music circles here.

The exodus was part of Eugene Ormandy's first experience as the orchestra's new conductor. Some critics branded the performance as a discourtesy that the Friday matinee ladies would have never dared.

Leopold Stokowski, former maestro of the orchestra, while others maintained the walkout occurred because Walton's "First Symphony" is music of the kind commonly known as "difficult to understand at first hearing."

Clipper Ship Arrives But Will Not Leave For U. S. Until Tuesday

THREE DAYS TIME ALREADY LOST

One Of Trio Of Work Racers Is Far Ahead, Already In Honolulu

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN
International News Service and New York Evening Journal Staff Correspondent

(Copyright, 1936, by International News Service and New York Evening Journal) MANILA, P. I., Oct. 17.—At last our long-delayed Pacific hop is in sight!

When the China clipper zoomed out of the evening sky tonight and landed on the waters of the harbor, I felt like a castaway on a desert island who sees a rescue ship coming.

Leo Kieran and I have cooled our heels here for three days waiting for that clipper, after dashing around half the world without a stop. A typhoon had made her turn back to Guam, but today she made the final hop to Manila.

W. W. Chaplin of International News Service and the six other newspapermen aboard the China clipper on its previous passenger flight from California received as royal a welcome from the local newspaper colony as did Kieran and I.

Oh, it's hard to wait here any longer, with that silver bird riding in the harbor, being tuned up to whisk us across the ocean to the Golden Gate!

Wait Until Tuesday

Pan American Airways moguls say we'll have to wait patiently until Tuesday, when the clipper will take off for the return hop on its regular schedule.

I'm almost tempted to climb aboard it and try to fly myself! Our stay in Manila has been glorious, but now that the clipper is here I'm a fever with anxiety to be (Continued on Page Two)

Nearly Shot As Fascist While Visiting Lines Near Madrid

REPORTS REBELS ARE ADVANCING

By THOMAS A. LOAYZA
International News Service Staff Correspondent

MADRID, Oct. 17.—Belaguered Madrid seemed like a haven of safety to me today—after a visit to the western front where I first was under shell fire, and then nearly shot as a fascist!

How long Madrid will remain safe, however, is a matter of grave doubt, for the rebel troops of Gen. Jose Vazquez are now advancing on Navalcarnero, and have taken Menchaca and Chapineria in their march.

Find Claims False

With J. R. Allwork, the correspondent for Reuters agency of Britain, I went as far as Brunette, 20 miles west of Madrid and found rebel claims that the town had fallen were false.

We were in the garden of a country house near San Martin De Valdevidosa when rebel observers spotted the militiamen removing sacks of grain from the house to their nearby headquarters, and suddenly began shelling the place.

The first shell fell 50 yards from the house, but it was a dud. But the second, that followed in quick succession from rebel six-inch guns two miles away burst all around the house, soon enveloping it in smoke, while the two reporters and the militiamen scurried for headquarters.

Taken Into Custody

Half-way down a hill I saw one shell explode within 30 yards of my car, and then another shell's black smoke blotted the car altogether from sight!

At headquarters a sergeant peremptorily demanded to know our identity, but when I tried to explain he cut me short and escorted me to an empty hut.

Then the sergeant detailed three men armed with rifles to take us to some place the name of which could not be heard.

We were driven nine miles into a town that we learned was Brunete, where two officers questioned us. Finally, much to our relief, Lieut. Col. Lopez Tienda inspected our papers and apologized for our arrest.

Convention Of State Sabbath Schools Ended

Over 2000 Hear Final Address By Noted Woman Lecturer Last Night

DELEGATES DEPART FOR HOMES TODAY

Local Committees Complemented For Splendid Handling Of Arrangements

While the voices of over 2,000 people echoed through the Cathedral in "God Be With You 'Til We Meet Again" the curtain was rung down last night on the 74th annual convention of the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association.

Miss Margaret Slattery's stirring address on "Thy Kingdom Come—But Not Now!" was the closing feature of an excellent three-day program.

At noon today most of the delegates had departed for their homes in every corner of the Commonwealth, spurred on by the inspirational messages to greater heights in their work for the year to come, and anxious to spread the news of the convention to their many thousands of Sabbath School members.

It had been a great convocation from a technical standpoint also, they all agreed. The arrangements had been very competently handled and there was no confusion at any time. For this splendid work Robert M. Strickler, Jr., the general chairman, and his efficient committee people were paid a glowing tribute last night by Director H. C. Heckerman, of Bedford, in behalf of the visiting delegates.

Mr. Heckerman presides as president officer at the final session. John Owens, veteran choir leader of the First Baptist church, New Castle, led the singing, and Dr. August Pohlman, of Philadelphia, conducted the opening devotional period.

"Give Yourself to God" was the theme of Dr. Pohlman's talk. He emphasized the thought that it is far better to live for Christ than to die for Him.

Kurtz is employed by the South Side Coal company.

REVISE NORRIS AMENDMENT?

Complications Are Foreseen

Fear Possible Situation Leaving Country Temporarily Without President

SOME DIFFICULTIES ARE PRESENTED

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—Revision of the Norris "Lame Duck" amendment to the constitution may be demanded in the next congress because of the possibility that the nation may at some time be without a president.

Approach of the national election has caused many election and parliamentary experts to study the constitution and laws governing choice of the president—and they are in a dither about it.

Here are some of the contingencies that might arise to prevent a president being inaugurated on next January 20.

1. If no candidate has a majority of the electoral votes the election is thrown into the house.

2. The constitution provides that electoral votes shall be counted by senate and house in joint session on January 6.

3. But the house must first be organized by electing officers before members are sworn in—and the house doesn't meet until January 5. There have been occasions when the house fought for weeks over election of a speaker.

See Delay

4. If the election is thrown into the house, the presidential choice must receive a majority of the votes of all states—with the state congressional delegations voting as a unit. An election contest might last beyond January 20—the date set for the inauguration.

5. If a president is not chosen by January 20 the vice president-elect says the constitution, shall serve. But under the present system, failure to choose a president by the house probably would be accompanied by failure to choose a vice-president.

6. If objections are made to counting the electoral vote of any state, senate and house vote separately. They also may vote concurrently to reject a state's vote. But the law isn't clear, and a parliamentary tangle might follow.

I Have Been Asked So Often,

"BURKE"

WHY ARE YOUR PRICES FOR COMPLETE FUNERALS SO MUCH LOWER?

AND THIS IS MY ANSWER TO THAT QUESTION:

"I am able to provide far superior funerals at far lower prices, because my large volume enables me to cut the price of each individual funeral far below the price asked by the old-time funeral director. I serve so many families, that my cost for each service is greatly reduced.

"I convert that reduced expense into important economies for every one of the families who come to me in their time of sorrow. Frequently the savings I can offer are as much as 40%.

"DESPITE these savings, my funerals are the standard at comparison throughout Lawrence County. It is my policy to provide the finest funerals I can possibly offer, at prices that are as low as I can possibly cut them. Compare my funerals carefully—compare quality as well as price."

Everything sold is guaranteed, by the manufacturer and myself.

You are welcome to visit my Funeral Home any time.

Modern Burke Funerals are Priced at $150—$200—$225—$325—etc., anywhere in the County.

CHARGE ATTEMPT MADE TO POISON HEIRS TO FORTUNE

final victim after Lee had succeeded in installing himself as sole heir in lieu of "faithful service."

Because of Mrs. Churchill's age and deep affection for the servant, District Attorney Walter A. Ferris, although ordering police to keep Chang under observation soon after the Reeves' couple were taken to the hospital two weeks ago, waited until the widow had left West Plains to join friends in Pennsylvania before placing the house-boy under arrest.

Too Large Doses

"Greed took a strong hold on Chang," Lieutenant Hughes of the White Plains police said today. "He was so anxious to get rid of the Reeves' quickly that he handed out the doses of poison in too large quantities. That doctors told me, is the only thing keeping the Reeves' alive although they are completely paralyzed."

"Instead of putting small doses of lead in their food, he continually, at every meal, injected tremendous amounts of lead poison. Somehow, he managed to keep the poisoned portions away from Mrs. Churchill. She was on some sort of diet and thus could not eat certain foods. Because of this, Chang concentrated on poisoning only those types of dishes which she could not eat but which her relatives could. He even mixed this lead poison with baking soda."

for even a "rear porch" talk from his "Sunflower Special" either on his fast dash to the coast or on the return trip.

To New Steps

Two new steps on the western trip were announced. One will be at Albuquerque, N. M., on the way west and the other at Phoenix, Ariz., on the return trip. The Landon special will halt at both cities for railroad servicing and the governor consented to give a short talk during each stop.

The governor may accept a few of the several hundred invitations but he cannot accept many, due to his engagements in the East. After speaking in Los Angeles on October 20, he has scheduled speeches in Oklahoma City on October 23, and in Indianapolis on October 24. As a result, he must make a fast trip back East from Los Angeles to keep these earlier engagements.

In Fine Health

Landon was in fine health and full of vitality on his return here. His condition, although he made all the speeches and held literally thousands of interviews, was in sharp contrast to that of members of his party. Members of his staff and many newspaper correspondents accompanying him, were exhausted, a dozen suffering from colds and a few bedfast. They marveled at the governor's vitality.

He came back here to find Kansas a cauldron of politics, due to the campaign trip of President Roosevelt across the state. While Mr. Roosevelt stirred up Democrats his tour also provoked Republicans into warring fever.

New Issues Vs. Roosevelt

These new local issues were raised against the president, because of the trip. Some Republican leaders contended they cost the president more votes than he gained by visiting Kansas.

The issues were that a negro was denied the right to ride in his Wichita parade that a Republican was barred from the same parade because of his party affiliation, and that the Democratic nominee for the U. S. Senate, Omar Ketcham, was ignored by Roosevelt on the tour.

PRESIDENT NEAR CONCLUSION OF CAMPAIGN TRIP

and business conditions, as compared with the dark days of 1932-33. In the dozens of speeches he made he rarely failed to "congratulate" his audiences upon their improved appearance since last he had seen them, or to hold out more glowing prospects for the future.

In the grain-belt he reminded farmers and stockmen that they are now having dollar wheat and corn and ten-cent beef and pork, as against the thirty-cent wheat and four and five-cent meat prices that prevailed a few years ago.

Is Confident

In the industrial belt, he emphasized that the New Deal has accomplished or tried to accomplish, for labor in the way of organization, shorter hours, higher wages, and improved working conditions.

Accompanying these arguments, Mr. Roosevelt made a bid for the support of the small business man by attacking monopolistic practices and asserting that it was these monopolies, not the New Deal, which tended to be destructive of the American system of individual initiative and free enterprise.

To so-called "big business," after administering the spanking, he illustrated increased foreign trade, stabilized money conditions, and an expanding home market as reasons why it should support his administration and return it to power.

All told, in the scores of speeches he delivered on his long western trip, Mr. Roosevelt missed no class or segment of American life in his appeal for support.

He returned to New York satisfied with his trip, and confident.

Dedicating Buffalo Building

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 17.—Dedicating a new federal building here fronting McKinley monument, President Roosevelt today praised highly the work relief program of his administration which he declared made such buildings possible.

"It is a part of a great national program," he said, "which has two objectives—to provide work for unemployed, and to furnish some needed improvement."

"It was our American substitute for the dole."

The president came to Buffalo from Niagara Falls, a 25-mile motor drive, most of which was lined with upstate people. Although this section is normally heavily Republican, Mr. Roosevelt received a cordial welcome.

A. F. Of L. Calls Upon Members To Vote But Supports No Candidate

MOVE SURPRISE TO DEMOCRATS

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—The American Federation of Labor today called upon its more than 2,000,000 members to adopt a strictly non-partisan policy in the present campaign.

This recommendation was made in a report issued by the executive council, containing a non-partisan analysis of the records of President Roosevelt and Governor Alfred M. Landon, the Republican presidential nominee.

"This document to the surprise of many in both the Roosevelt and Landon groups within labor's ranks, who had expected it to reveal did nothing of the sort. It contained no comment on the good or bad points of either candidate but simply printed the records and a number of excerpts from the messages of Landon as Governor of Kansas."

The report called upon all workers to vote, then declared:

"The executive council of the A. F. of L. is of the opinion that the membership of the A. F. of L. should continue to adhere to its non-partisan political policy during the ensuing political campaign."

Charles G. Alexander.

Charles G. Alexander, aged 32 years, better known to his many friends as "Alec," died last evening at 6:45 o'clock in his home, 1014 Dewey avenue, after a sudden heart attack. He had been ill only an hour and it was at first thought to be indigestion.

Mr. Alexander was born in New Castle on September 26, 1904, son of Thomas and Margaret Bishop Alexander, both deceased. His mother died just two months ago.

He was a faithful member and worker in the Croton Avenue M. E. church.

Surviving are his wife, Cynthia E. Blaine Alexander, and their little daughter, Sarah Jane, aged 5.

Funeral services will be conducted at the residence on Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with the Croton Avenue M. E. pastor, Rev. C. H. Hanger, in charge. Interment will be made in Castle View Burial Park.

Ian Butcher Stambaugh, Madeleine N. Hugh, George MacDonald and Charles Richards are members, presented two beautiful vocal selections. At the opening of the meeting music was furnished by the George Washington Junior High orchestra.

"The job was done remarkably well," Mr. Heckerman said, in introducing Mr. Strickler, and the latter replied with a few words, graciously giving his committee chairman much of the credit.

Tribute To Percy L. Craig

Mr. Heckerman displayed a program he had kept from the last convention of the state association in New Castle, on the front of which was a photograph of the late Percy L. Craig. To the memory of Mr. Craig he paid a simple, heartfelt tribute, and said that the spirit of that great man lives on in the association. He spoke of Mr. Craig as honorary chairman of the convention committee, who has taken a great interest in Sabbath school work, and asked her to rise. He stated that it had been an outstandingly fine convention and "the whole spirit was one of advancement."

Miss Slattery Speaks

Miss Margaret Slattery's abilities as a speaker were well known to the audience. Her name is among those of the best women lecturers of today; she had delivered several splendid messages earlier in the convention and her name on the program last night was probably responsible for the huge auditorium being nearly full on a wet, miserable night.

By her subject "Thy Kingdom Come—But Not Now" Miss Slattery meant that prayers are nothing but words unless the people who ask them are determined that God's "will" will be done—"and now."

It is all a case of what man wants to do, she said. He wanted to fly—and so made airplanes. I love peace, she said, I believe in peace, but the world is not ready for it yet. I want it, but "now now." When man is ready to make a man out of man, she said, when he decides to do it "now" it "will be done on earth as it is in Heaven."

"I have no impractical idea, no wild scheme, no political poltroon to offer," Miss Slattery declared. "I only say that until we are eager to make the kingdom of God down on earth as passionately as we were to have airplanes and radio, our poor pitiful prayers are nothing but words and never rise above the Cathedral dome."

"O Lord," she concluded, "Thy kingdom come—now—and begin it in me."

Rev. C. H. Heaton, D. D., pastor of the First Baptist church, gave the benediction.

But if retired people are so easily victimized by quacks, how did they ever get money enough to retire?

Massillon Visitors Greeted By Crowd

Nearly 800 Come On Special Train Last Night Despite Bad Weather

In spite of the heavy drizzle which beat down as the Massillon "booster special" pulled into the Pennsylvania railroad's West Side station last night, New Castle demonstrators to the Ohioms that its hospitality prevails rain or shine.

It was a cheering reception the local crowd furnished as the 13-coach train, one of the longest football trains to operate into the city in months, reached the depot.

Mayor Charles E. McGrath was in the waiting group to extend to the Massillon host, through Mayor Henry Krier, the warmest of welcomes. The two mayors met just as quick as the train halted.

Senior high school's band was on hand and provided the musical flavor for the affair. The band played as though the sun was shining and the martial numbers cheered things up a lot.

Through New Castle's business section the army of almost 800 train passengers moved on their way to Taggart stadium.

New Castle police were on hand and capably aided the movement of the throng. Traffic was well handled and as far as is known there were no accidents.

Pennsylvania officials made it known that the Massillon train made the return trip successfully. They reported that 771 passengers rode the train.

Other scores of Massillon citizens came here by auto earlier in the day and were in the New Castle throng when the special arrived at the Pennsy depot.

Defendant Asks New Trial In Auto Case

Charles A. Berg of Ellport, defendant in an automobile case brought by John A. Born and Catherine Born, his wife, in which a verdict was rendered in favor of the plaintiffs, filed a motion for a new trial at court this morning. The jury awarded Born $750 and his wife $300 for personal injuries, and Elsie Born $600 for a car wrecked in a collision on the Perry highway. Defendant claims that the verdicts are against the weight of the evidence. Judge Chambers entertained and directed that the stenographer write out the notes of testimony.

The proof of mental maturity is the realization that you can't help the situation by worrying about it.

SANKEY-WEBB WEDDING TAKES PLACE TODAY

A quiet wedding ceremony of interest to many took place at 11:30 o'clock this morning in the parlors of the First Baptist Temple, Youngstown, Ohio, when Miss Grace L. Sankey, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Sankey, Albert street of this city, became the bride of Charles J. Webb, son of Mrs. Helen Webb, Spruce avenue, Sharon, Pa.

The vows were pledged in the presence of the families of the young couple, with the Rev. F. B. McAllister, formerly of New Castle, officiating. The impressive single ring service was used.

The bride wore for her wedding, a smart sand brown crepe dress with ecru lace trimming, and accessories to match. Her shoulder bouquet of Johnny daisies, and an off-the-face hat completed her ensemble. Attending her sister as matron of honor, Mrs. James Messner of Edgewood ave, chose a jungle green crepe dress with matching accessories. Her shoulder corsage was fashioned of Talisman roses.

Edward J. Bellama of Sharon served the groom as best man. Upon returning to New Castle the wedding party and guests were held breakfast at the Castleton Hotel. Nuptial appointments predominated, and the bride's table was centered with the traditional wedding cake, with an all-white theme being developed in the baby mums and waxen tapers placed on either side.

FAITH

Anyone who missed the opportunity of going through the tin mill on last Wednesday certainly missed an educational feature. Few people know the magnitude of this manufacturing plant within our own city, employing about three thousand of our fellow citizens.

This great plant regulates the pulse of our business concerns of New Castle. One would never realize, without being shown, the great number of articles that come into our homes that are either manufactured of this tin or are the containers of things that we use. New Castle citizens in buying these things should demand that they be made of NEW CASTLE TIN.

Mr. David Pyle certainly felt proud of the excellent manner in which he has managed this great plant and in the condition that he is turning it over to his successors.

We welcome his successors, C. E. Crawford and R. E. Sturdy, and hope that they are successful in continuing on the work that Mr. Pyle has turned over to them, and may the citizens of New Castle get better acquainted with this great plant and boost the articles that can be made of material manufactured there, by the hands of our neighbors, and are used in so many ways in our homes.

Canvass

Announcement was made today by Attorney Joseph R. McFate, city chairman of the annual Red Cross Roll Call campaign which opens on November 4, of the acceptance by Mrs. Bart E. Richards of the chairmanship of the House to House canvass which will be an important factor in the annual Roll Call.

Mrs. Richards will be assisted by a strong organization of the outstanding women of the city who are interested in the civic progress of the community, and they expect to make a whirlwind four day campaign, visiting the homes of the city to enroll members in the Red Cross for the coming year.

In former years, the campaign has lasted the greater part of the month of November, but this year, it is planned to confine the Roll Call effort to four days, November 4 to 7, and residents of the city are asked to be prepared to meet these women when they visit them in their homes during this period, and to join the Red Cross for the coming year.

tax payer, sane or imbecile (not judicially determined to be insane), black or white, rich or poor. The Power of Initiative, Referendum and Recall has been given to the voters of many States. The Direct Primary has come into being so that a candidate can stand at the Primary upon the Republican, Democratic, the Socialist, the Communist; in fact, he can offer himself the choice of all parties and pledge himself to follow the caucus of none. I do not know the laws of all of the States. The Legislatures of the States meet every two years and each pass a thousand or more new laws. They seldom repeal any, but the Direct Primary has not turned out to be that glorious heritage which its proponents promised. The jolly voter says he is going to vote for the "Best man," but how many voters know anything about the workings of the mind of their "Best man"; how many know anything, presumably, that would entitle him to say that John Citizen is the "Best man?"

Now the Nation is at the cross roads. One candidate for the Presidency has failed to perform a single promise which he and his alleged party made before November 1932. What now does he seek? Perpetual power as the Head of a Communist or of a Federal Government?

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

MY TWO GRANDMOTHERS
When I was a mischievous youngster of nine,
Unbroken to custom or law,
I looked on those solemn grandmothers of mine
With a curious feeling of awe.
So prim and so stately they both seemed to be,
So shocked by the blunders I made,
That whenever they happened to drop in for tea
Of myself I was ever afraid.

I remember them now as they sat in their chairs
As straight as a queen on her throne,
No skirted that even while walking upstairs
No sign of an ankle was shown.
They were bundled in silk from their necks to their toes,
With lace they were kerchiefed and capped,
And whenever some dreadful occasion arose
They said that I ought to be slapped.

O'er the tops of their glasses they looked down on me
As if they were searching to find some fault which my mother perhaps didn't see
To show how the tree was inclined.
So fond of perfection in mortals were they,
So devoted to manners precise,
That always it seemed I was hearing them say:
"Will never you learn to be nice?"

Since their labors are ended I'm glad they are gone
I am glad they're not with us today
To see how our children are carrying on,
For I'm certain I know what they'd say.
They would take just one look at the things we permit
And calling for camphor and ice they would shriek in dismay ere they fell in a fit:
"Is this what you call being nice?"

theaters will increase in prosperity and attendance because human beings like to see things together. Any father who has installed a billiard table in his house "to keep the boys at home" can tell you that the boys still go out to play billiards, where others are playing.

No 12-inch television picture will keep the real crowds away from the bright lights, beautiful gilding and occasional "personal appearances" of the moving picture house, for man is a gregarious animal, enjoying himself in crowds.

ONE PIECE of good news: In 1936 the number of motor vehicles registered in New York State, alone, increased by 124,580, to a magnificent total for the state of 2,414,111.

Those automobiles could carry the total population of New York State all at one time, with plenty of room for luggage and bedding on the running board, if it should become necessary for the population to move west to escape airplanes, not that they could escape.

THE 25,000,000 automobiles now running in the United States could carry our total population of 130,000,000 at one time. That is real transportation.

The big automobile shows are approaching; you will want to see what has been done, and guess how much higher the automobile registrations will go. A hot road is as good as a bird, except that he has no wings. Don't be a hot road—get a car.

LOYD'S BRITISH insurance company will insure you against anything if it "guesses" that it will not happen; it usually guesses correctly. It refuses to insure against war striking England, although until lately, the charge for that insurance was only one-fifth of 1 percent; 200 pounds for 100,000 pounds insurance.

Somewhere in Lloyd's possesses intelligence. That big organization does not like to think of war with airplanes added.

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

To Tell History Of Constitution

Congressman Sol Bloom Is Chosen To Direct Sesqui-
Centennial Celebration

KNOWS EARLY HISTORY OF LAND

Central Press
Washington Bureau
602 Times-Herald Bldg.
By CHARLES P. STEVART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—As a politician, Congressman Sol Bloom of New York undoubtedly is destined to be known to posterity as the foremost historian of early national days in this country.

The New Yorker was director of the Washington bi-centennial celebration, now in the past but not forgotten.

At present he is director general of the sesqui-centennial of the constitution's adoption.

This sesqui-centennial directorship, for which congress chose him as it did for his similar post at the head of the Washington celebration, was given to him as a tribute to his work in his earlier post.

A PASSION
Managing these patriotic celebrations is more than a fad with Congressman Bloom. It is a passion.

With Sol a celebration is no mere one-day blow-out. He celebrates a whole anniversary year, during which he rubs his subject into education and public life and everything, from ocean to ocean, from Canada to the Gulf of Mexico.

He has to have a year or two within which to prepare for one of such events. Then he has to have a year or two within which to record the information he has gathered to provide the celebrants with the raw material to celebrate with.

Do not assume that Sol's celebrations are expensive luxuries. He never gets big enough appropriations from the government to pay fully for his activities. He supplements the budget out of his own pocket. He is rich and can afford it, but he is generous also. All the historical spade-work that he did in England, preliminary to his George Washington bi-centennial celebration, he did on his own account.

KNOWS WASHINGTON
Congress simply HAD to make him director general of that celebration; he knew so much more about George Washington, his progenitors and his time, than any other single individual on earth.

This is no exaggeration. Every minute rumor relative to the Father of His Country's career Sol traced to its source. He ascertained, not only that the cherry tree story isn't true (which many folk may have suspected), but who started it. All such stuff.

Then, the celebration over, he produced four large bookfuls of Washington. And I'll bet they're authentic. Experts tell me that they'll be invaluable to future historians. It isn't alone that Sol has the "dope"; he has it assembled.

CONSTITUTION NOW
Now he is at work on the constitution.

"Except for the original draft of the constitution and photographs of it," he told me, "there isn't in existence an accurate copy of it."

He picked up a little book of 64 pages, about four by six pages in dimension, issued by a well-known publishing house, which I won't name, because the congressman's comment wasn't flattering. The book professed to reproduce the constitution, with observations concerning it.

"In this little volume," he said, "I have already found 1,497 deviations from the original documents, in capitalization, punctuation and spelling, as well as approximately 10 erroneous statements or descriptions."

OTHER ERRORS
"Without going farther than the first word," said Sol, "all reprints of the constitution start with the word 'Preamble'."

"No such word appears in the original constitution."

"We can call it a 'preamble' if we please, but the constitution makers did not so call it."

The little book referred to likewise offers a picture of "the Robert Morris house, Philadelphia, which was the first official presidential residence, Washington lived here in 1793 to 1794."

"It was not," says Congressman Bloom, "the first official presidential residence, but the third. Washington occupied it from 1790 to 1797—and this is not a picture of the house."

BAD ONE!
Further on in the book appears a reproduction of a photograph of the president (which one is not specified) "delivering his message to the seventy-ninth congress."

The current congress is the seventy-fourth. The next will be the seventy-fifth.

Then must follow the seventy-sixth, seventy-seventh and seventy-eighth, at two-year intervals, before the seventy-ninth can be addressed by any president.

IT WILL BE ACCURATE
"Very poor historical teaching," criticizes Congressman Bloom.

After the sesqui-centennial celebration of the constitution he will issue another book (to be published at cost by the government)—"We the People—the Story of the Constitution."

How readable it may be remains to be seen.

It is a safe betting, however, that it will be accurate. Historians will consult it centuries hence.

List Prospects For November Campaign Of Community Chest

A subscribers' prospect census for the 1936 Community Chest campaign which opens November 19 is now being prepared by the campaign's office force under the direction of Harry Thayer, campaign director.

The survey is a part of the preliminary work in all campaigns but the one now under way is more thorough than those of the past. From the census is obtained the list of prospects the campaign workers will visit.

The goal of the November drive and the general chairman of the campaign have not been announced as yet.

All campaign details will be worked out at a meeting of the chest board which President W. Keith McAfee will call shortly. Campaign offices have been opened in room 509 in the Lawrence Savings & Trust building.

"All Big Laugh" Says Fr. Coughlin Of Charges Made

(International News Service)
ROYAL OAK, Mich., Oct. 17.—"It's all a big laugh to me," So Rev. Charles E. Coughlin today greeted charges of mismanagement, bad faith, negligence and breach of trust against him and other trustees of the National Union for Social Justice.

The charges were brought in a circuit court suit filed by John H. O'Donnell, ex-president of the Catholic societies of the Pittsburgh diocese and a member of the National Union founded by Coughlin. "The charges are really funny," Coughlin told International News Service. "They're a perfect example of New Deal humor. I don't think the suit will ever come to trial. I haven't been served with any summons yet, and I don't expect to."

"The whole thing is patently part of the campaign by the Democrats to discredit the N. U. S. J. and its candidates."

MASSILLON HIGH DEFEATS NEW CASTLE 13 TO 0

BATTLE IN RAIN GOES TO OHIOANS

New Castle High "Red Hurricane" Stopped By Tigers Of Massillon Under Dripping Skies; Robert Glass, Massillon Fullback Outstanding Star Of Game; Visitors Out-first Down New Castle 12 To 5; New Castle Scoring Threat In First Period Blasted By Fumble; Aerial Circus Fails To Appear; Crowd Of Close To 10,000 Fans Sits In Rain And Watched Game.

UNDER dripping skies a Massillon Tiger looked a powerful "Red Hurricane" in the face last night at Taggart Stadium and when the hurricane blew, the Tiger snarled and refused to be scared. The 13 to 0 victory of the Massillon team will not be forgotten here in sometime. It was a football game all the way.

The close to 10,000 hardy football souls who sat through the game and took a drenching, saw one of the finest high school teams to ever play here. Smart, deceptive and fast, the Tigers piled up 12 first downs and held the New Castle boys to five. On a dry field it is hard to conjecture what would have happened. This will be the argument for several days among the more rabid of the fans.

Robert "Bobby" Glass, the 172 pound Massillon fullback came out of the rain-soaked field, the hero, with Eddie Herring, the colored bundle of dynamite a close second. "Dudley" Perrett was the only New Castle player able to rip off any long gains through the Ohioans line. He made a couple of 20 yard dashes that were beauties.

The widely press-agented aerial circus failed to show up. It got caught in a mud puddle somewhere this side of Podunk and with no aerial circus, the teams had to run with the ball most of the time, and well, they did a very good job of it. Fumbles were costly. New Castle would have scored in the first period, but DeCaprio fumbled on the 1-yard line and the New Castle scoring punch went up in smoke.

If New Castle had scored in the first period what would have been the effect on the Massillon team? Would the game have had a different complexion? This is another moot question today.

Game Starts.
The game began with New Castle kicking off to Massillon. The Tigers took the ball on the 15 and returned it to the 35. Herring and Glass picked up four yards between them. New Castle drew a penalty. Herring fumbled and recovered for a two-yard loss. Glass on an attempted punt fumbled the wet ball and it went to New Castle on the Massillon 25.

Right away the New Castle boys went into action. Here was the break that they had hoped for. DeCaprio and Perrett hammered at the Tigers line and made nine between them, just short of a first down. DeCaprio then made it a first and tenner. The ball was on the Massillon 15.

Mort lost a couple of yards on an off-tackle play. DeCaprio picked up three through the center and Perrett clicked off five yards. Mort then made it first and ten on the Massillon 5-yard line. DeCaprio hammered the line for a yard, another yard and another yard and it was down on the 2-yard mark. Another time DeCaprio was called upon and it looked like the New Castle fullback was going to make it this time. But, zingo, the ball bounced out of "Gaby's" hands and it was recovered by Massillon on their own 8-yard line. The groan from the New Castle section could have been heard in Zellenople on a clear night. The rain sort of kept down the sound. It was a "heat breaker" of the first water. Plenty of water.

Run Ball Out.
Everybody thought that Massillon would kick from the five-yard line, but Byleene fooled them by running the ball for five yards. Glass then picked up ten and first down on a deceptive play. Herring ripped off eight more and Glass made one. Byleene fumbled and lost ten yards. Massillon's ball on their own 24-yard line when the first period ended.

The Tiger didn't look so very ferocious in the first period, but later extra-point under much groaning from the New Castle fans, but to the strain of "Aud Lang Syne" from the Massillon fans.

It was 13 to 0 at this particular point, if you care for points. The rain was still coming down as it meant business. It looked more like a water polo game.

Protect Lead
The Tigers kicked off to New Castle but there was just time enough left in the third period for a few plays, and it was New Castle's ball on their own 34 yard line as the whistle sounded.

Those Massillon boys with a 13 point lead refused to gamble in the fourth period. They didn't take any chances. They kicked when they got the ball and kept New Castle shoved back into its own territory. Anderson at one point kicked one out in "coffin" corner, around the 10-yard line.

It looked bad for the locals when Cox fumbled the ball and it was downed by New Castle on the 2-yard line. Mumford then booted it out of danger. Despite the wet ball Mumford was putting very nicely.

The game ended with Massillon having the ball on their own 49 yard line. The big crowd filed out of the stadium satisfied that they had seen a great Massillon high team in action, and outside of the fact that it was "pneumonia" weather, the evening was enjoyable from a football standpoint. The Massillon fans were very orderly about their victory, probably they were just as damp as the New Castle folks, because it was raining on the Massillon side of the field too.

Glass Outstanding
This man Glass as we said before was the standout performer. He was the hardest man to bring down that you ever saw. At slippery as an eel. He almost alone was responsible for the Massillon victory. Of course Herring and Byleene were good, but it was the punch supplied by Mister Glass that did the trick. On the Tiger line the playing of Peters and Anderson left nothing to be desired.

The work of Louie Leonard, Small and Perrett was the standout for New Castle. Massillon didn't use a substitute. On the other hand Coach Bridenbaugh used eight replacements to stem the Tiger tide, but to no avail.

It was the fifteenth straight for the Massillon team. It was 23 points for the first five games. Coach Paul Brown was elated over the victory of the Tigers right here in the "Hurricane" backyard.

Nuvolari, pick of the foreign drivers in the race, started as a hot favorite and set such a sizzling pace that he cleaned up. Known as "the man who has a contract with the devil" the Italian roared the three hundred miles on the pretzel-like course in the amazing time of 4 hours, 32 minutes 41.04 seconds for an average of 65.998 miles an hour. Record Crowd Despite Rain

Probably 10,000 See New Castle-Massillon Game Last Night

COLORFUL EVENT EVEN IN DRIZZLE

You have to be just a trifle wacky to sit through two hours of drenching rain just to watch 22 young men push each other around on a patch of greensward, but about ten thousand ordinarily sane American citizens did that thing Friday night at Taggart Stadium.

It wasn't just a touch of rain, it was a swizzling, soaking down pour that soaked through your celluloid collar and trickled down through your red flannels. Had it been a spring football game, the weather could have been aptly described as "good evening weather."

Colorful Nevertheless
In spite of the weather the New Castle-Massillon football game was a colorful thing, albeit the color was dark blue for New Castle before the game was over. Two of the finest high school football teams in the United States put on four quarters of real football and the better team won. New Castle couldn't possibly alibi the defeat, nor does anybody want to. You can't tackle a ball carrier you can't find, and in Byleene, Glass and Herring, Massillon has a trio of ghosts.

There must have been 1500 Massillon rooters here. Hundreds came over in automobiles and the special train brought 854 on it. Heading the Massillon rooters was Mayor Henry Krier and the Massillon high school band. The mayor rooted, the band tooted and on the field the Tigers booted. Preceding the game Mayor Charles E. McGrath, who had Mayor and Mrs. Krier in tow, made a short speech. The mayor offered Massillon the courtesy of the word but the football game. Mayor Krier responded with a speech in which he accepted the courtesies upon behalf of Massillon and then took the game too.

Game Was "Clean"
The game was one of the cleanest ever played on Taggart Field. No roughing, no penalties for slugging, just clean, hard football. In the stands, the huge crowd followed the lead of the teams and were just as clean. Real cheering, yells that shook the concrete stadium, but no personal remarks, nothing but good sportsmanship.

Up on New Castle's band stand the New Castle high school band team blared away at every opportunity and while the horn players must have been inhaling a pint of water with every note they played with their usual vim and quality.

Practically available New Castle policeman was on duty, either at the game or directing traffic. As a result the crowd was kept moving after the game, there was no trouble, and the traffic was moved with a minimum of delay. As a matter of fact the whole thing was unusual. After sitting in the rain for two hours and seeing the home team get licked doesn't make Pollyanna dispositions, but New Castle took the defeat for what it was, a fine exhibition of football.

After the game the Massillon students had a field day on Washington street. They yelled themselves hoarse, they frolicked up and down

Wallick Meets Blake Monday

Semi-Final To Sexton-Getz Main Bout Attracts Fans Interest

KING KONG IN OPENING BOUT

Although Frank Sexton and Al Getz are "tops" on Pete Askoines mat calendar at the Arena Garden, Monday night, there is considerable interest attached to the Bob Blake-Leo Wallick semi-final bout.

Leo made his strong bid for popularity here when he pinned the shoulders of Joe Banaski to the mat in 10 or less seconds several weeks ago. The victory, judging from the applause, was a popular win.

However, Leo will not be the only "rassler" upon whom eyes will be focused. Indeed not, because Banaski, the vanquished, has been matched with Gorilla Grubmeyer in a bout preceding the Wallick-Blake tangle.

No doubt Banaski will literally wrestle his head off to win and obtain a return bout with Wallick. After what occurred at the Arena there is little love lost between this pair.

King Kong, the chap who provides laughs and holds, will oppose Whitley Govro, another familiar figure here. They have appeared in other spots previously, but Monday, are scheduled to open the show.

According to Askoines, the promoter, he believes the card arranged meets with the approval of the fans and he is looking forward to plenty of action and a large crowd.

All the grapplers will arrive in the city Monday afternoon, undergo a physical examination and be ready to crawl through the ropes when the bell rings for the first bout at 8:30 p. m.

Warren Next For New Castle High Gridders

Warren, Ohio, high school football team will be met at Warren on next Friday night by the New Castle high "Red Hurricane".

The game will be played at the spacious Warren stadium. Today Warren is playing Martins Ferry at the latter city. Result will be watched eagerly by New Castle, and will be the means of comparing relative strength. Sharon is playing at home today with Grove City high.

Shenango Eleven Loses To Mercer

Grinzowich Scores Lone Tally For East New Castle Gridders

(Special To The News)
MERCER, Oct. 17.—In one of the most exciting grid games of the season on the Mercer field, Shenango high school eleven lost a tough 12-7 decision to the Mercer high team, Friday afternoon.

The home towners pushed over their touchdowns in the first two quarters. W. Rhodes plunging over from the 1 yard line following a steady march down the field. Another goallard procession down the chalk marks placed the ball on the 5 where W. Rhodes raced wide around end to score in the second. Late in the second, Pitzer intercepted a Mercer pass and ran to his opponents' 30 yard mark. A pass, Kirkwood to Irvine was good and placed the ball on the 15. A line buck and pass were successful for Shenango, putting the ball on the 1 foot line. Just as the teams lined up for the next play, the first half ended.

In the final stanza, the East New Castle boys took the ball on their own 30 and started a steady march towards the goal. From the 5 Irvine tossed a short pass to Grinzowich who scored. Kirkwood dropped kicked the extra point. Kirkwood and Irvine played outstanding ball in the backfield, for Shenango. Thomas and Druschel did well on the line. W. Rhodes was Mercer's big star.

GAME PLAYED IN
DRIZZLE OF RAIN

(Special To The News)
BESSEMER, Pa., Oct. 17.—Playing in a drizzle of rain, Bessemer high school's red and black eleven advanced nearer to another Lawrence county class B title by defeating a scrappy Union township team Friday afternoon. A large crowd of rooters dazed the weatherman, to watch the exciting tilt.

A quick kick by Bessemer placed the Unionites in a tight spot at the start of the initial period. After trying three line plays, the Union township eleven booted to the Bessemer 32. Galena ran left end for a nice gain, being downed on the 20. A line buck by Shoup and a 5-yard penalty for Union gave Bessemer the slippery oval on the 13. Galena again ran left end and brought the ball to the 9. On two more bucks through center, Shoup pushed the pigskin to the 2. Here the Union wall bucked up and held. Union taking the ball on downs, Union kicked to Galena, who returned to the Union 28. After Galena skirted left end for 2, Frank Notareski went off-tackle for a nice 18-yard run to the Union 8. After two plays failed through the line, Frank Notareski scored on a pretty lateral from D. DeArment, carrying the oval over from the right side of the line. Shoup's kick was snared by Neal. Bessemer scored five seconds before the end of the quarter.

Score Again.

Unable to make any substantial gains through the strong Cement City wall, the Scotland Laners kicked to mid-field. On the prettiest play of the day, Dick DeArment, on a fake reverse around right end, raced 50 yards for Bessemer's second and final touchdown. Shoup's kick again was grounded. Score, Bessemer 12, Union 0.

During the last half, neither team came close to scoring. In the third stanza, Notareski shook himself loose from two men and ran to the 23 where Union took the ball on downs. At the start of the final quarter, Jaskolka, Union back, opened up with a fine end run that placed the ball on the 35. On the spinner play, Guinagh moved the ball to the 28, where the Bessemer boys halted the goalkick march of the Boyd machine. The ball was in mid-field as the final whistle sounded.

Bessemer's mixture of plays in the first two quarters bewildered the Unionites. But after that, the Bessemerites found their opponents as tough as nails. The Cement City representatives did not try one play. Union went skyward on three occasions, one pass being completed for a short gain. The first downs score, Bessemer 6, Union 3. Fumbles were numerous, due to a continuous drizzle of rain.

Bessemer's outstanding gridgers were Pezzullo and Skocic on the line. D. DeArment and Notareski shining in the backfield. Fulton, King and McGrew held down the laurels for Union on the line. The work of Guinagh was quite noticeable in the backfield. Shenango high the only obstacle that stands in the way of another class B championship title for the Bessemer eleven. Bessemer is undefeated to-date, having won four games.

The lineup follows:
Bessemer 12 Union Twp. 0

ERIE EAST LOSES

Erie East High lost to Ashland, Kentucky High last night on a water-soaked field at Erie, Pa. 7 to 0.

The Southerners scored in the final period after a 60 yard march down the field, with Griffin scoring. Erie East plays at New Castle on Friday, night, October 30.

Pity the coach. If opposing teams are too weak, he wins no glory; if they are too strong, he loses his job.

Stocks Continue Wide Advance, Leaders Up More Than Two Points

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—The stock market extended its advance on a wide front today, the ticker falling behind momentarily and leaders chalking up gains of fractions to more than two points.

Buying was particularly heavy in steels, amusements and copper shares.

U. S. Steel opened at a new high for the year, with an overnight gain of 1/8. Big Steel preferred also hit a 1936 top, while Bethlehem moved a point higher.

In Paramount issues the common and first preferred moved into new high ground, the latter spurring 2 1/2 points. Loew's climbed 1 1/2 before meeting resistance.

In coppers, both Anaconda and Kennecott were at best prices of the year.

In electrical equipments, Westinghouse and General Electric registered new 1936 tops, the former jumping more than two points.

Other features included Montgomery Ward in mail orders, Chrysler in motors, Deere in the farm implements, all at new high levels.

An irregularly higher trend prevailed in bonds. Grains slipped fractionally. Cotton was steady.

The defeat was the first Temple ever suffered at night and it snapped the team's string of four consecutive victories this season. Since 1930, the Owls had won 23 and tied three night games.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: Memories

Copyright, 1936, Central Press Association

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Gotham Daguerotypes: Charles is a character actor, has been for 28 years. Which is another way of saying that he works harder and must use more skill for less pay and fame than the hammy leading man. If Charles is a bit hammy himself, that is beside the point.

He has played everything one-night stands through the lamplight regions and long runs on Broadway. Shakespeare, Moliere, George Kelly, George S. Kaufman. He is large, with an increasing waistband and fierce black mustachios. He affects a boutonniere and spats; he wears a gnarled cane of "rare hardwood" from the blackest jungles of New Guinea.

He is married to a little woman with pale green eyes and a hard head. She is a bitter fighter in the war against alcohol and because of George's taste for Wurzburger she has been able to indulge in a number of skirmishes without emerging from her own home.

On many occasions George has come home trailing a faint, beery cloud. But his wife's sense of smell is not what it might be and he could have gotten away with it except for one thing. George can't tell a lie.

He rehearses his story all the way home; sometimes, indeed, he begins rehearsing it before he tilts his first seidel. But always, when the time comes to recite his little fiction to account for the hours in the beer cellar, he blows up in his face. He fumbles and blushes and finally blurts out, on her promptings:

"Yes, darling, I had a few."

George feels that his inability to act in private life may have some bearing on his failure to astound the world as a professional. But what he has never suspected is that his wife will take a sip of schnapps herself when no one is looking.

Eddy is a taxi-driver. He was raised in an orphanage and up to his 20th birthday he had never heard of the custom of treating children with compassion and understanding. He never had quite enough to eat the year 'round. He reached his 21st birthday in 1932, but he managed all right. He made a living.

Now, with things picking up, he is doing better. He is saving up for another cab. He hopes to have a fleet of his own in a few years. He even goes to the public library sometimes in the evening and reads. He knows an education is there in the fat volumes if he has the patience to dig it out.

The other evening he picked up a young man in evening clothes. The young man, who had pink cheeks and a well-fed air, began to harangue Eddy.

"The world has changed," he cried through Eddy's partition. "Look at me. When I got out of college I found no job ready for me. No opportunity. All the wars have been fought, all the fortunes accumulated. You working men shouldn't take this lying down. You should rise up and assert your rights. I, for one, refuse to be cut out of my rightful heritage by the apostles of greed."

But Eddy grinned to himself. If this young man, with every advantage, couldn't locate a job, it was no use for him, Eddy, to start howling at this late date. Maybe the advantages the rich are supposed to have are overrated, anyhow, and so there's no use to demand a cut in on something that results in young men like this. You live and learn.

In the hacking business; and next month he'll be able to make a down payment on that second cab.

Dora is an usher in a theater housing a hit show. She's 22, ash-blond and pretty. She has been ushering now, in movies and "legit" theaters for three years. Her salary is small but she knows she is going to save enough money as a result of this sort of work to make it worthwhile.

For as long as she lives she'll never shell out a nickel for a movie or a theater again. Just imagine the money saved!

Mt. Lebanon Pupils Coming For Opera

Fifty students from Mt. Lebanon high school will be brought here by their teacher, Miss Margaret Hertzler, to witness the Wednesday night performance of The Mikado at the Cathedral. The same Gilbert and Sullivan light opera will be presented by the Mt. Lebanon students in early December.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

MOTHER CRITICIZED

Last July, while I was in Europe, there appeared in this column a letter from a mother whose daughter in a university smoked. To quote from that letter: "She was home Sunday and just saturated with the fumes...The doctor said, 'Try this. Tell her she will have to stay away from her parents until she can come home clean,' and I did."

A number of letters came criticizing the mother and doctor.

"Dear sir: Please be so kind as to let a 16-year-old modern state my opinion and try to change the method of this heart-broken mother...If only this mother would have a heart-to-heart talk with her daughter and let her know she really understands the modern girl...and try to win her confidence. All mothers should be pals with their daughters and not be shocked at what they say or do."

"J. V. H."

Heavy Hand Is Mistake

Another young woman, who has done considerable work with groups of adolescent girls, writes:

"In my experience I find that my biggest mistakes and failures have been in driving with too heavy a hand. Also I have the memory of fighting with my mother all the 15 years of my life that she lived; and today, almost 15 years after her death, that is the most vivid memory I have of her. The mother whose letter you quote gives a clue to her own situation in one sentence: 'I will not have her smoke!' Probably the smoking is not so important to the daughter as the WILLING. If the mother would cease to make a moralizing issue of something which, even among conservative people, is coming to be largely a matter of taste, results might be happier."

"As it is, if she persists in forcing her attitude, now that the child is away from home, and if she follows the criminally foolish counsel of the physician, she may be responsible for driving her girl into something beside which smoking could class as a prayer meeting accomplishment. I myself am not a smoker, and never expect to be one, and do not particularly care to see women and young girls smoke, but I do think that mother needs to revise her own scale of values somewhat and to examine into the proprietary rights of one individual over another."

On Court House Hill

After going over the common pleas trial list Judge James A. Chambers and W. Walter Braham, have decided that it will not be necessary to hold a session of court scheduled to open on November 9. It is believed that all the cases that are ready can be heard during the session beginning on next Monday, October 19. Court was shortened this week on account of several cases having been settled.

William Reynolds, county assessor for Neshannock township, was at the county commissioners office yesterday discussing the tri-annual assessments now being made. There are several sub-divisions in the township, upon which there are no buildings, and which the owners thought should be assessed as acreage. Mr. Reynolds was informed that if the land has been platted into lots, it must be assessed as lots instead of as acreage.

In the estate of Anna Nicholas, late of this city, letters of administration have been granted by the register and recorder to Vernal Ferris. In the estate of the late Phillip Levine, letters of administration have been granted to Rachel Levine, and in the estate of Mary Swad, late of this city, letters have been granted to Anna Charles.

County Solicitor William McElwee Jr., has sent to the prothonotary of the Supreme court at Pittsburgh, for a copy of a recent supreme court decision, relative to the number of party tickets, which are to appear on the election ballots. No official information has been furnished to the county commissioners relative to what party tickets are to be printed, although there have been press reports of the opinion handed down.

The court has granted an alias subpoena in divorce in the case of Mary Daniels against Steve Daniels.

Sheriff and Mrs. Edward D. Pritchard, who made a trip to the state penitentiary at Muncie, Pa., this week to bring back a life prisoner to attend the funeral of her mother here, report that the scenery over the mountains is grand. All the colors of the rainbow are reflected in the variegated foliage of trees and shrubs, the scenery being further enhanced by the falling leaves and migrating birds.

An exemplification of the will of Peter Igoe, who died in Brooklyn, N. Y., has been filed at the register and recorder's office here, owing to interest of the deceased in Lawrence county.

If the yearning for moonshine continues to make wanderers of inmates of the county home, it may be found necessary to build a high wire fence around the home or confine them within the building. The great majority of those who get food and shelter at the expense of the county, appreciate the favor and are anxious to reciprocate by good behavior. They feel that they are being disgraced by the small coterie of inmates who disregard the rules and regulations of the institution. The arrest of six inmates for being drunk and disorderly, and the beating up of a man nearly foreclosed, has focused the attention of the public on the troubles incident to looking after the county's wards. Every case of a drunk man at the county home should be thoroughly investigated. The county is not running a home for inebriates, but an institution to take care of the worthy poor.

Prothonotary Roy P. Bowser of Armstrong county, called on Prothonotary John A. Edgar yesterday. Bowser is here attending the Sunday school convention.
